Trail's End Art Association and Gallery – Gearhart ArtWalk – Saturday, November 7th from 2:00pm to 5:00pm – featuring Judith Fredrickson and Gheri Fouts

October 23, 2020 by Gearhart City Staff

Trail's End will open a new show during the Gearhart ArtWalk on Saturday, November 7th, featuring Judith Fredrickson and Gheri Fouts, both Trail's End members of long standing. A reception in their honor will be from 2-5pm when they will be available to share their expertise with gallery goers. The gallery is located at 656 A Street in Gearhart and will be open at 11:00.

Judith prefers watercolors and says "I never tire of it". She has also worked in collage. Her art connections include Write-On Calligraphers of Edmonds, Washington, Palette Puddlers, Trail's End Art Association and the Astoria Art Loft. While mostly self-taught, she has attended classes through Clatsop Community College with Lois Erickson and had an Introduction to Watercolor class taught by Marilyn Webberley. She also has been helped by taking an introductory correspondence course through North Light Books. Artists who have greatly influenced her have been Jo Pomeroy-Crockett, Jeannette Davis and all the Palette Puddlers.

When Gheri first started painting, she was interested in learning how to paint. It was Judy Fredrickson who started me in watercolor at Trail's End. She then took workshops with Eric Wiegard, Royal Nebeker, Stan Miller, and Thomas Schaller, to name a few. She says, "I paint what I see and I ask the question 'Do you see what I see?' Art teaches me to look at a moment and capture it on paper. Hopefully I am able to show you what I see in that moment."

In addition to the featured artists will be works of other members in the show. Adjacent to the larger gallery is our smaller one displaying lovely 3-D items, notecards and other paintings gifted to the gallery. The gallery has recently had a welcome facelift inside and out.
